September Sketch: "The Return"

Well, here it is. This, you poor nervous scholar, is what you have been looking forward to all summer. After suffering through those all-night parties at the lake, the long days at Tower Hill, (and those dates after the dance when you could drive through Azar's with the top down and then go for a long ride in the country). "Summer can sure be dull," you tell yourself as you pack your swim suit and noseplugs away for the winter. You have nothing to do but sleep till twelve, then spend the afternoon at the pool or mooch a ride to the lake.

Your biggest problems are the decisions you have to make. "Should I get up at noon or one o'clock? Whose car are we taking today? Whom should I ask to the dance next week? Do we go to Waldo's party or Smiley's place?"

Well, that's all over now. You can settle down to the peace and tranquility of school life.

As you step in the front door, Mr. C. grinds your cigarette out under his heel, and our new leader begins his reign.

You rise at six to be at your early morning class. At noon the smiling cafeteria workers spread you on your way with a pat on the wallet and the start of a peptic ulcer. At 3:15 you are hustled out of the old Alma Mater and sent home with more books than the Library of Congress ever dreamed of. You give up trying to figure out why Macbeth bumped off Banquo and not Fleance, and you hit the sack wondering if maybe the boredom of summer was such a bad deal after all.

This silhouette of science reminds us that teachers, too, are back to school.

The shadow of this friendship will not disappear with the setting of the sun. We return to school to learn, but all knowledge is not found in books.

"They're growing them bigger this year," senior Tina Dunn is forced to admit as she "faces up" to trash Tom Syts.

"May I please have three purple pencils, a green English literature text, the French history — yeh, the red one, and a yellow chemistry workbook? Oh, money?!"

Riley's New Principal, Mr. Crouse, Is A Man Of

"Impressive" is the word that most clearly describes the experience and record of our new principal, Howard L. Crouse. His B.S. degree from Purdue University and his Master's in that same field from Indiana first prepared Mr. Crouse for his career as a science teacher. After a five-year stint in the army during World War II, he returned to civilian life to become principal of the Hartford, Indiana, Junior-Senior High School until 1949. Promotions to continually larger high schools such as Frankfort High and most recently Connersville High School have gradually brought Mr. Crouse to Riley.

Our principal is as busy civically as he has been professionally. He is currently serving as President of the Indiana Association of Junior and Senior High Schools and is also an active member of such organizations as North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools and the Rotary Club.

Mr. Crouse has been well-pleased with the co-operation he has received since coming to Riley. He realizes the importance of becoming better acquainted with the student body and has been trying to do so by presiding over assemblies and pep rallies and by being in the school corridors between classes. Also, his door is open to any student who may desire an interview with the principal.

Recently there has been much controversy on the importance of extracurricular activities in school. Mr. Crouse feels that these clubs do have a definite place in high school, but should be considered secondary to school work. "The basic purpose of school is to afford an education in the subjects; activities are part of this, but work that results in the classroom is of number one importance."

Mr. Crouse addresses the student body at an outdoor pep assembly. He, too, is hoping for a victory!

Many Talents.

Mr. Crouse enjoys a quick trip 'round the world as Razia Farooqi, Riley's exchange student, points out her native land of Pakistan to Sharon Cserrits and Becky Newhard.

The New Cafeteria Facilities

There Are New Additions To Match

The New Electronics Lab

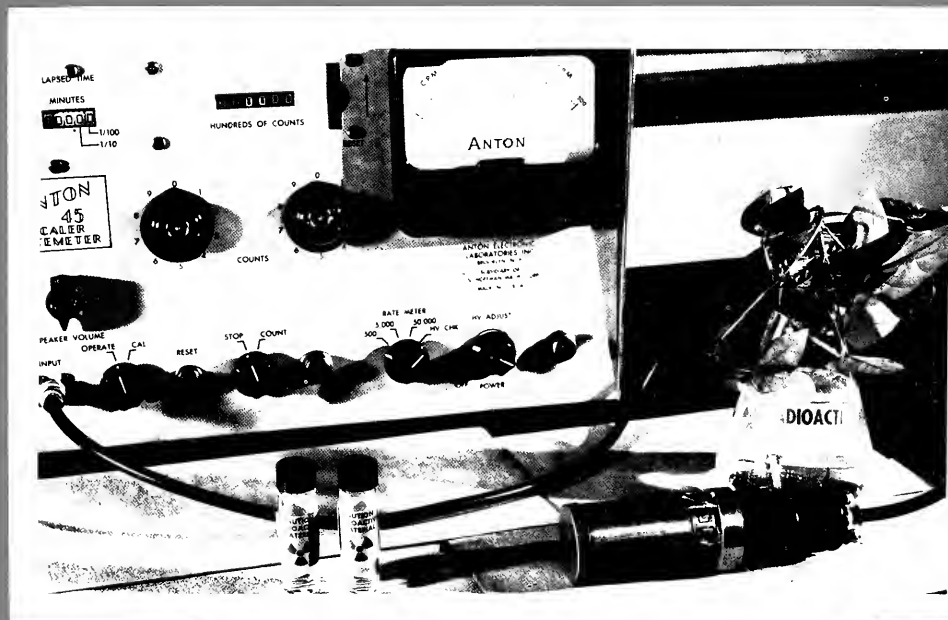

Yes the new school isn't all hard knocks and frustration. It must keep in tune with changes in the modern world, and while there may be danger in falling plaster and an occasional boltless door, Riley has acquired several new conveniences worthy of mention. They are the new electronics lab which graces our industrial arts department, the modern steam tables which facilitate the distribution of the daily ration in Riley's cafeteria lines, the electronic suds-makers which fade football jerseys and shrink socks, and the radiation lab emitting its benevolent rays to all fascinated advanced biology students.

Gripes are heard daily in the halls of the Almo Mater, but only a few pet peeves concerning improvements are satisfied. Gradually Riley moves ahead, and another year sees several worthwhile additions.

The New Radiation Biology Lab

The Riley-Washington Bonfire was a joyful affair. Pam Solbrig clings to her crown and Sandy Lorincz smiles happily as Solly Yoder is crowned football queen by Dave Hendrix.

Fall Frames Football Festivities

A morning shower and deep frosts produce this true reflection of Riley High.

Our courageous football captains, Paul Nelson and Dave Hendrix, "risk life and limb" to get the Washington-Riley Roundup off to a good start.

Every girl's dream . . . to be a queen. Sally Yoder bears her crown proudly as she is escorted off the field by Dave Izdepski. How does a queen get to be a queen? Each senior homeroom nominates two girls to run for court. There is uniform campaigning, and a picture of each girl is put up in the halls. A week after the homeroom nominations, the entire student body votes to elect the court. A final election decides who is to be QUEEN!

A smiling court attends the queen. Sue Barnfield, Sharon Csernits, and Nita Hawley ride atop their open-air carriage at the Riley-Washington half-time ceremonies.

Wildcats' Enthusiasm Carries

The energy which forms the soul of Riley is its spirit. We wonder sometimes if there really is any, but when we stand in a deserted hall, we can feel a kind of magic present all around us. In the half-worn wax, the solid bricks, and the air itself, there is a silent voice that says "Chin up; keep smiling." Riley's life has rarely been one of perfect victory, and the spirit sometimes becomes hidden. But it is never lost. In all the pageantry of human existence, the determination to succeed has never had a better example than the Wildcats who lose but keep fighting toward a winning end.

A New Council Influences Student Life

The Riley Student Council has undergone a complete reorganization this year. Now representatives at large are elected by each of the four classes to form a council of twenty-six besides the four officers. With the aid of sponsor Mr. Morrison, the council has carried out a full schedule of activities including an A.F.S. drive, the football and basketball coronations, and the early ordering of class rings for juniors. Honored by being asked to send a delegate to the national convention, the council looks forward to better relationships between the faculty and student body. The world is sometimes surprised at the wisdom of its youth.

Student Council officers are glad to better international relations with some concrete help. Becky Newhard, our A.F.S. student to Sweden, accepts a check from Sharon Csernits, president. Looking on are Judy Arch, secretary, and Curt Woolley, vice-president. Dean Brown is now in New Zealand on the A.F.S. program.

Presidents on parade! The P.T.A. invited the presidents of several school organizations to meet for a panel discussion. The presidents are: Jim Hamilton, Senior Class; Chuck Hickok, Booster Club; John Byers, National Honor Society; Sharon Csernits, Student Council; Jon Nace, Monogram Club; and Steve Lester, Junior Class.

These are the "middle men". The Student Council representatives are selected from all four classes to better relationships between the faculty and student body.

Of course one must glimpse that wonderful American institution—the study hall!

January Resolutions Produce Study, Study, Study -

Studying is a full-time job for conscientious Riley-ites. Whether in a quiet room or on a busy telephone, "verbals," "tangents," and "neuroses" are the standard terms of scrutinizing scholars. The study hall, soon to disappear from Riley life, maintains a steady whirl of mental gears until the heavy student eyelids begin to overpower the student determinism.

The library carries on a lively business in all types of reference reading and also serves as a place for peaceful skimming through the lighter side of current and classical literature. And oh! those never-to-be-forgotten days before finals . . . on to a less serious version . . .

With feet propped up on desk, the back-row flunkie nonchalantly flips his gum wrapper toward the wastebasket in the front of the room. He thumbs through his collection of comic books, Mad magazine, etc., and yawns at the world in general.

The semester wears on. With the ominous threat of final exams looming before him, beads of cold sweat appear on his forehead as his ever-present grin begins to waver. As he steps into the room on the day before finals, his dusty, mold-encrusted textbook is clutched in his sweaty paw.

The chair rests on all four legs for a change, as he feverishly scribbles on scraps of paper the knowledge of a semester, and he laboriously assembles a set of beautiful crib notes.

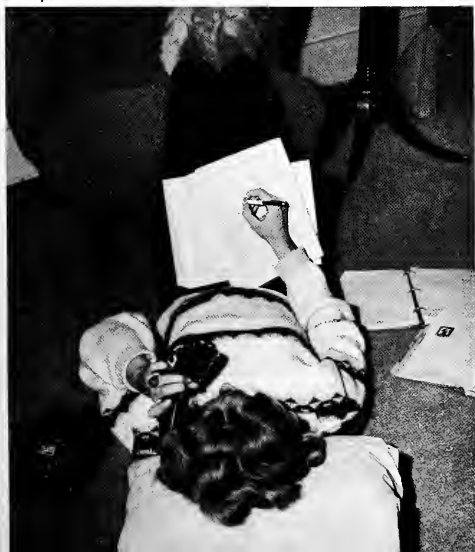

Research for my term paper? 'Course nat, never do today what you can do tomorrow for something may occur to make you regret your premature move.

These inventive students (names withheld on request) experiment with their new method of cramming for finals... bridge anyone?

Note proper position for homework: back straight, knees bent, feet flat down. After all it doesn't say which side should be up!

The next day a sly grin cracks his otherwise sleep-robbed countenance as he hunches over his paper like a miser examining his gold. By now the smile is beginning to droop at the corners as he reads down the list of questions searching for one he has answers for. His jaw hangs loosely in its sockets, and his wrinkled, dripping brow indicates our hero is a bit unsure of his performance. After masticating two pencils and seven fingernails, emitting a few groans, and scratching his skull until dandruff begins to obscure his blank test paper, another small-time cribster hits the dust.

In the back rows of many classrooms this semester we see small, crumpled, sobbing figures trying to figure out where their well-planned schemes went awry. ”

I hate to bother you sir — Mr. Goodman, sir — but about this grade . . .

---For The Final Accounting

I hate to bother you, sir, but if you have a moment to spare, I'd like to talk to you about my grade.

It's just that I feel I did more this semester than you gave me credit for.

My final?

That bad, huh?

But I do feel my work during the semester was very good.

Kinda good?

Above average?

That bad, huh?

Well, anyway, I believe homework should be very important in determining the final grade, and . . .

I did not!

I admit we did work together on some assignments, but I would never copy . . .

By the way, what was my homework average?

Oh — I see.

But still, my class participation was exceptional.

Oh, so you thought so too. You know I'm glad you noticed that because I worked very . . .

You didn't mean that kind of participation? Well, I can easily understand why you might feel that way . . . I did mess around a little in the beginning, but I settled down, oh yes, I settled down. I really learned a lot from this class, sir. I learned to appreciate a good teacher like you so much. I mean that! Have you ever thought of teaching college?

My objective in this course?

A gra . . . I mean knowledge, yes sir, I am ever seeking wisdom, the foundation of the universe, the secret of the ages, the answer to . . .

Why am I complaining then?

You know, that's a darn good question.

Yes, sir, I am. No, sir, I'm not. The grade is very important, but . . .

No?

Positive?

Absolutely posi . . . ?

Well, I didn't mean to bother you.

You're not. That's good because I'd hate to . . .

Oh, I am sorry! I didn't realize how busy you were.

Yes, thank you, sir.

Yes, sir, I will, sir . . . any time at all . . . thank you again . . . sir.

Booster club is now BOOSTER club! Not only backing athletics, but also drama and music, Booster Club leads the student body in supporting school activities. Through money-making projects of its own, the club donates specific equipment to various organizations. This year Booster Club originated send-offs for the athletic teams.

Booster Club board membership is necessarily limited because of space problems, but any student can belong to the general Booster Club by buying a membership card. Booster Club exists under the principle that enthusiasm is the key to victory and success.

March . . .

The fall SS Hoosier Poet assembly preview for frosh presents the staff in full regalia.

Ten . . . nine . . . eight . . . the countdown to our final yearbook deadline approaches. It marks the end of months of work . . . and change. Beginning in October with a brand new sales campaign, over 1400 books were sold in a record two weeks time. Confidently the staff OK'd color in our book—another first for Riley. New features and ideas developed to record this year of change at Riley—our first year as an all senior high. More copy and fuller coverage of all events have been our goals as we aim toward an All-American rating. Everything has gone modern from cover to final pages. Now in March the book goes to press along with the hopes and prayers of one worn-out staff.

The man who gives in when he is right is weak, spineless, or works for Judy Areen. Listening intently to the boss's orders are: Jill Swanson, Gail Hawes, Nita Hawley, Vilma Lovisa, Sandy Garbacz, and May, the Hoosier Poet is Here!

"Well, Mr. Kach, maybe it's better if the yearbook doesn't come out on time. They might not let me graduate if it does!"

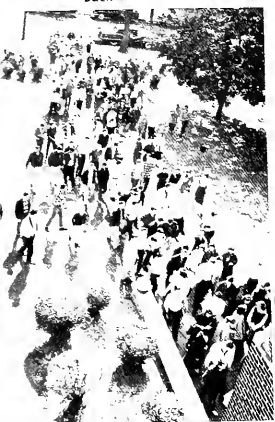

They said it couldn't be done, but there it is . . . the 1962 Hoosier Poet! Proudly surveying their handywork are (seated) Mary Lou Schille, advertising editor; Wendy Lamka, senior editor; Kathy Hajnacki, senior editor; Pam Hutson, underclassman editor; (standing) Mike Baymon, sports editor; Betts Allen, literary editor; Maureen Sullivan, paste-up editor; Leonard Gaska, associate sports editor; Becky Christiens, layout editor; and Kathy Lively, business editor.

These wits work with words — phew! Yearbook staff writers are Betts Allen, Jill Swanson, and Chuck Hickok.

Will Guide Our Future

Now the kaleidoscope of memories begins to merge into the pattern that is James Whitcomb Riley 1962. We have followed the trends, but we still need to look behind the scenes into the events that form the purple and gold spirit of the wildcats . . . academics . . . athletics . . . and acquaintances.

Academics

An Outstanding Administration Guides

Our Academic Growth

Mr. Ogden, our assistant principal, is a familiar face — especially to truant Riley-ites!

Mr. Pate in his work as head counselor influences the lives of students by guiding their choice of subjects.

Study on, faithful student . . . knowledge will some day control the universe . . . fathom the secrets of the universe . . . thrust boldly into the dark curtain of ignorance which smothers and oppresses the curious, searching mind . . . tear it to shreds and tramp its fabric of superstition, prejudice, and hypocrisy underfoot . . . seek the how and why . . . step into the obscure land of education with its foggy paths leading to the many secrets of nature and society . . . look over the signposts, science, math, languages, the arts . . . then pick one which leaves a question mark in your brain, one whose landmarks present an incessant challenge to you . . . and strike off down this path to find yourself in the temples of learning toward your goal of learning and understanding . . . study on.

Effective English skills are taught by this outstanding faculty group. They are left to right: Miss Felps, Mrs. McMillan, Mrs. Buesing, Mrs. Rhodes, and Mrs. Bohan. Standing are Mr. Gearhart, Mr. Goodman, Mr. Bilby, Mr. Krider, Miss Steele (department head), Mr. O'Leary, and Mrs. Burns.

Our English Department Re-emphasizes the 3 R's

Miss Cain encourages an interest in Dickens characters through art work as displayed by Karen Bernhardt.

Bookworming is allowed in the quiet reserve of Riley's library.

The emphasis in high school is leaning more and more toward higher education. Courses are not only college preparatory but also college level. Advanced courses have become prominent and new subjects are being added every year. The English department has not been standing idly by while the world moves on. It has, in fact, led the school by encouraging contests, new methods of teaching, and new courses.

The developmental reading course, open to 200 of the more advanced readers in the junior class, is being taught by Mr. Bilby. Its purpose is to help the better readers to become still more proficient. The modern trend is carried on by the library as it responds to demand by opening a paperback section to the student body and encouraging the use of the library for reference material. Other departments have contributed many helpful reference books on the sciences, mathematics, and literature. All of these advances point out the desire of the school to reach new levels of education and prepare students to continue their studies in college.

Mrs. Leatherman and Miss Josephson are responsible for the fine collection of volumes in Riley that satisfy every reading taste from fiction to Freud.

Foreign Languages Aim to Eliminate Barriers

Language is no longer a barrier for Riley students. Travel to France, Spain, Germany or the Rome of centuries ago with the help of our language teachers is now possible. Seated

to Understanding

Communication through language is the most effective method of understanding people. It is becoming increasingly important in today's chaotic world that the minds of men be brought together in a working harmony, and language is the key which can unlock this door to better relationships. Riley's foreign language department keeps this in mind and offers three years of study in Latin, French, Spanish, and German. In his chosen language area, the student is encouraged to learn the significant developments and achievements of the people who inhabit the native country of that language. Latin includes supplementary work in the classic history of Greece and Rome, while the modern languages utilize films and personal contact through penpals. Future developments include the addition of laboratories to supplement the department's work.

Archimedes principle is being demonstrated by Bob Loft, Tony Skarich, and Jan Nace.

Today's Test Tube Smashers

"Are you sure that's bacteria? It looks more like a dirt spot on the slide to me!" Jan Powers, Jan Wilcox, John Laughlin and Judy Wenzel probe into the microscopic world.

"Mr. Clayton, I'd like you to take a look at my physics project."

The program of studies in science has been developed over the years to serve all of the students.

This year at Riley, the science department has resisted wholesale changes merely for the sake of change. While many of the schools in the country are "watering down" their courses to make them new and improved, Riley has maintained its traditional pattern of strict discipline.

The curriculum is geared to the Atomic Age with the emphasis on the newest theories.

The courses of study have become more comprehensive because of the nature and content of the material.

This year the biology rooms were equipped with overhead projectors, micro-projectors, and recorders. These devices add to the efficiency of the course in giving the students more visual aids.

Looking into the future, Riley hopes to have two new semi-microchemistry laboratories, and a new physics laboratory.

Precise techniques carry Charles Horvath and Sue McCurdy through this chemistry demonstration.

The great changes in the world have not gone unnoticed in the math department at Riley. In an endeavor to keep pace with the modern world new equipment has been added: instructor's slide rules, miniature computers, a kit for the study of statistics, new additions to our paperback collection which helps fill out our mathematics library. Along with this, the department has added a course in analytical geometry in the spring semester.

Some anticipated improvements for the future are the combining of courses in Geometry II and Algebra III in the second semester of the sophomore year. This, along with the combining of solid geometry, trigonometry, and analytical geometry into one course in the senior year, would enable the student to take calculus in the spring semester of the senior year.

"Boys, I think you have the wrong idea about this chapter on probability."

Social studies seeks to prepare the student for his role as an adult in society. United States and world history courses help him to evaluate the past in order to plan for the future of his country and humanity. Civics, sociology, economics, and government courses teach him about the people and forces in his environment and what he must do to effectively deal with them.

Next year, the social studies department hopes to initiate a course in international relations. This class will give the student a more intensive look at the broad field of world culture and diplomacy. The trend towards humanities is increasing steadily, and Riley social studies curriculum is going to meet the needs of a growing civilization, to prepare us to meet the challenge of democracy.

The home economics department offers practical education in homemaking arts. Courses in foods and nutrition provide experience in planning and preparing well-balanced meals, as well as procedures and courtesies involving foods. Clothing courses teach students to evaluate fabrics in order to construct attractive, functional costumes. In Home Nursing and Child Development, intensive training covers personal hygiene as well as care of children. Home management gives the prospective homemaker a realistic idea of family problems and the techniques for solving them effectively. Riley takes another step toward valuable preparation of useful citizens in this growing department.

The vocational department has been blessed with a great deal of new equipment. The new power tools in the wood and machine shops help to acquaint the student with the advances in mechanization. The remodeled mechanical drawing room is another example of the effort to keep pace with the advancing world.

Probably the most noticeable improvement in the vocational department is the electronics lab which has been added this year under the supervision of Mr. Badger. There are four courses offered leading from basic fundamentals to advanced theory. The new equipment is excellent and the courses fascinating.

Nelson creates a circle of concern after being carried off the field in the North Side game with a leg injury. Behind him is manager, Harold Dieu. Administering oxygen is Joe Gerschoffer of Riley's Adult Booster Club under the eyes of team physician, Dr. J. O. Hildebrand.

Head up . . . tail down . . . hit hard . . . follow up . . . weed 'em out . . . drive! The thundering bellow of the coach urges the boys on to fight for the honor of good ol' R. H. S. Their summer vacation is cut short by the start of football practice in mid-August. They arrive early in the morning when the dew is on the grass and stare dumbly at each other through red, throbbing, blood-shot eyes which constantly remind them of their last night of freedom which they had ushered out so gayly only a few hours before. They receive their clean, but dusty whites, and climb into their stiff and creaking armor. As they trot reluctantly onto the grassy grid, they pass the smiling members of the cross country and tennis teams who are leaning nonchalantly upon the fence. Among a torrent of catcalls and jeers the boys prepare to mold themselves into a team.

After the season the boys struggle on to wrestling or basketball, and, with the same determination, sacrifice "to make the team." The wrestlers struggle thru the long practices, finger-tip pushups, and starvation diets to have their chance in the next meet. The dribblers bounce around the gym and practice long shots, lay-ups, free throws, and how to fake the opponent out of his shoelaces, so that they may have the chance to pull out some of the splinters and play in the big game.

groundhogs, the Riley harriers dust off the spikes and hurdles in the hopes of a successful season. Spring heralds the start of a new track season and starts the divot-diggers swinging the old 5 irons in the back yards around town.

Finally the apple tossers start warming up the old "soup bone" and dusting off home plate for the first game.

At the close of the baseball season they pack the suits away in moth balls and reflect upon their past year of glory — the winning touchdown, breaking the high-jump record, the close game, and the double play.

They sorrowfully pack away the heat lamps, linament, heat packs, and splints for the summer.

Despite the "charley horses", sprained ankles, blisters, and stiff backs, the boys will be back the next year ready for the same old band-aid and iodine treatment.

We say good-bye to the boys as they reflect sorrowfully upon the all night card parties, the late date after the Prom, and the day they skipped school and didn't get caught. Freedom for the summer — so long fellas!

Then, along with the budding trees and emerging

The 1961 edition of the Riley football team again completed the season with a 2-7 won-lost record, but this time in a more spectacular fashion than previously as they won the opening and closing games of the season.

Outstanding on the team was quarterback Paul Nelson who rated honorable mention on the South Bend Tribune team. Also outstanding was center Dave Hendrix, a four year regular, who was picked as an all-state center by the Associated Press and was also named to the All-American high school team!

The Wildcats opened on a victorious note by defeating arch-rival Adams 19-12. The score was not a true indication of the actual situation as the Eagles were completely outmanned. In the Washington contest (a carbon copy of the 1960 game), we lost 26-14 to the powerful Conference champs, after leading in the third quarter 14-13. Our Wildcats fell to crosstown rival Central in the third game by a 21-14 count. Only in the last quarter did the powerful Bears pull away to win by the slim one touchdown margin. St. Joe downed the Wildcats on a muddy School Field as they scored a touchdown and a safety and held on to win 9-6. Then Riley territory was invaded by the highly touted Elkhart Blue Blazers, who barely escaped with a victory by 14-7. In the sixth game Riley hit rock bottom as they fell to lowly Goshen 7-0. As time ran out in the first half, a lineman from Goshen picked up a Riley fumble and ran for the score. Next Riley fell to grossly over-rated Mishawaka by only two touchdowns 13-0. The Wildcats ran their loss streak to seven games in Michigan City as the Red Devils scored three quick touchdowns in the second quarter and held the Riley offense in the second half to win 20-0. In the last game of the season, the Wildcats, determined to break their four game scoring drought and salvage a little glory, powdered the Fort Wayne North squad 20-0. Although this season was not successful as far as the record is concerned, it was successful in other ways. Much experience was gained by the under classmen and if one looks at the record over the past four years it can be seen that football is on the upswing at Riley.

Varsity Has Up and Down Year

Bill Adams, a junior, and a man from Washington-Cloy fight it out for a rebound as Teddy Northern comes up to help.

The Wildcat varsity basketball team closed the season with a final record of eight wins and thirteen losses, including a loss to Washington in the Sectional, 61-62 in over-time. At times the team really showed a lot of class, and at other times, they gave the opposite impression. This inconsistency was the key factor in dropping the Wildcats below the .500 mark. They lost to such teams as Lakeville, Rensselaer, Goshen and Mishawaka. They also dropped a game to Washington after beating them earlier by ten points. The team did have its moments of glory, however. One was beating LaPorte after losing to them before. Another was the walloping of St. Joe by a score of 77-50. Yet another was the 71-37 slaughter of Washington-Cloy, after a loss to them last year. The victory over Washington was a terrific one. Coming back from a halftime deficit of eleven points, Riley's forty point second half was too much, as the Panthers came out on the short end, 58-48.

Playing at forwards this year were John Byers and Jim Hamilton. They were helpful in getting rebounds and also could score baskets in the clutch. Junior center Ted Northern paced the Riley attack this season, averaging 12.3 points per game, and snatching over 250 rebounds. Northern looked real good at times, especially on defense. Next year he should be a real top-notch center for coach Lennie Rzeszewski. Playing at the guard posts were Woody Bradford and sophomore Joe Kramer. These two boys played very steady ball, and could maneuver and shoot very well. Filling in very capably were Jim Jewell and Jim Glick, as they could come into the game most any time and score a few quick baskets.

This year was another chapter in the history of Riley's losing seasons. But it was not a total loss in any sense of the word. Rather, the teams that played Riley had to be "up" for the game, because if they weren't, they were beaten. By next year, the underclassmen on the squad should develop into a fine team, and they should start Riley back onto the winning trail.

"Big Teddy" drops two more points through the hoop as John Byers and Mike Grundy look on. In back court, Bill Adams prepares for a possible fast break.

Under the direction of Jim Krider, the B-Team had a record only a bit better than the varsity's, eleven wins and nine losses. The highlight of the season was the winning of the Holiday Tourney. This was the B-Team's second straight Holiday Tourney and gave a true indication of the team's potential. But, like the varsity, the team did have its ups and downs. On the up side of the ledger were wins over Elkhart 36-33, Penn 40-30, Central 43-36, Gary Roosevelt 40-36, and Lakeville 53-50.

The B-Team was unusual this year in that there was only one freshman on the squad, all the rest being sophomores, and no juniors. John Nelson was the freshman and gave a good account of himself, as he averaged nearly ten points a game. Carl Frank, although short on stature, was long on ability as he was the leading scorer five different times. Milt Pittman and John Walz gave a fine display of the kind of basketball Riley can expect from this B-Team, as they move up to the varsity next year, to fill the boots of this year's seniors.

Bill Adams is fouled while attempting to snatch a rebound from a shot by senior forward John Byers.

B Squad Wins Holiday Tourney

The rest of the squad breaks for the basket for a rebound in case Ted Northern's ten-footer misses the mark.

Freshmen have mediocre season but look forward to better luck next year. LEFT TO RIGHT, First Row: Leroy Lloyd, Charles McKnight, Bob Kletka, Tony Shelton, Rick Snyder, Dennis Rid-

Freshmen Finish 6-5 in Conference

Center Ted Northern cons a five-footer over a screen by Jahn Byers as Byers and sophomore guard Joe Kromer get set for a rebound.

This year's freshman team compiled a fairly good record of ten wins and nine losses. They came out 6-5 in Conference play. Seeing lots of action for coach Richard Morrison were the usual starting five of Tony Shelton, Jim Gorman, Larry Bennett, Leroy Lloyd, and Tom Heminger, along with occasional starters Mike Szucs, Ron Akin, Tom Byers, and Tim Nevelle. Also seeing action at the beginning of the season was John Nelson, who was then promoted to the B-Team.

The freshmen looked strong in some of their games. These included the wins over St. Joe 46-37, Plymouth 58-27, Mishawaka 57-53, and Adams 40-34. There were, however, such debacles as the Washington game, where the score was 51-27, and Central, where the score was 41-27. But these types of losses were rare and with a little luck the frosh could have come out with a much finer record. As it stands, a 10-9 season isn't bad, and Riley can look for some fine basketball from these boys in the future.

Well, it looks like these boys have forgotten one age-old basketball maxim: Know where the ball is at all times. Of course, what normal basketball player would expect to see a basketball floating in mid-air! So . . . I guess we can forgive them this time!

Center Ted Northern wheels off the pivot and hits a fifteen-footer in the Adams game.

Kramer, Northern, Byers, Adams, and Jewell anxiously await the rebound.

Swimmers Win State Title

Another gift for the trophy case. Dave Buchanan presents the State Championship Trophy to Athletic Director, Harvath, and Principal, Howard Crause. With Dave are Jim Burke, Marc Carmichael, and Coach Scheider.

Riley swimmers fashioned their first unbeaten season in the school's history this year. They also swept the ENIHSC race, the City Meet, the NIHSC Meet, and the State crown. Beginning with a fine contingent of boys from last year, first year coach Richard Scheider molded a championship squad.

The swimmers made their debut against St. Joe, and crushed them 54-41. In a sensational victory over Adams, the freestyle relay nipped the Adams team to give a hard earned victory to Riley, 50-45. The Central meet was just as exciting, as a freestyle relay victory was needed to win the meet. After a missed turn by another team member, first year swimmer and State champion Van Sandstrom rallied to nip the Central swimmer and give Riley the victory. In the closest win of the season, the tankers again faced Adams. They were pushed to their utmost by the fine Adams team; but it wasn't enough as Riley nipped the Eagles 49-46. The medley relay recorded a 1:46.8, only .6 off the national record. Smashing wins were recorded against Michigan City, Washington, LaPorte, Culver, Valparaiso, Penn, and Goshen. In the LaPorte meet, the freestyle relay recorded its best time of the year, 1:36.3. The City Meet was won by Riley as they racked up 90½ points to closest challenger Adams with 83. New records were set by Riley swimmers in five events. The tankers also won the NIHSC trophy as they gained 67 points. Dave Buchanan broke two Conference records and Steve Lester tied one.

The success of the team this year was characterized by team effort. Among the present squad are the holders of eight school records and three state records. Among this group are only two seniors.

THE STATE MEET

The swimmers brought the State trophy to Riley this year as they dethroned three-time defending champ Columbus convincingly. While having two individual champions, Riley also took a second, a third and a fourth. Van Sandstrom swam the 50 freestyle in :22.9, which tied the state mark. Dave Buchanan, already holding one state record, set another in the 100 butterfly as he swam it in an incredible :54.2. Jim Burke took a second in the 100 backstroke, Jack Marsh a third in the 400 freestyle and Steve Lester fourth in the 100 freestyle. With Columbus leading Riley 36½ to 26 heading into the relays, the crucial stage of the meet was realized. Both relay teams placed strong seconds to climax the season, and give Riley its fourth State Championship.

This 200 yard medley relay team was timed at better than the state mark and only .6 second off the All-American standard. Time: 1:46.8. The team, left to right: Jim Burke, Mike Lester, Dave Buchanan, Van Sandstrom.

Wrestling Gains In Popularity

Larry Katz receives two points for a predicament in the Central match.

The referee watches intensely as Tom Colloway attempts to slip in a half nelson on his opponent.

The wrestlers under their second year coach, Wally Garte, enjoyed a successful season in spite of the loss of nine varsity men through graduation. The highlight of the season was the win over the consistently powerful Niles team by a close score of 26 to 24. Other dual meet wins were registered against Culver Military Academy, Washington, LaPorte, Penn, Washington Clay, and Mishawaka. In the Holiday Tourney the Garte-men took second place while having three individual winners in Rick Peli, Tim McDonald, and Tom Lanning. Larry Katz took a third place and Tom Lanning took a second place in their respective weight divisions to give Riley a seventh place in the Conference meet.

In the Sectional meet, Larry Katz and Tom Lanning both took first places and Tim McDonald took fourth place to give the team seventh place in the meet. Larry Katz was the only Riley wrestler to place in the regional meet, taking fourth place to give Riley twenty-second place in the meet.

As 115 Try Out

Harriers Win City and Sectional Titles

Gary Winenger's final sprint leaves a Michigan City runner in the dust.

Led by seniors Mike Turnock and Jon Nace and juniors Ken Hickey, Curt Woolley, and Gary Winenger, Riley's Cross Country team continued its successful history under Coach Paul Frazier and soared to a 14-3 won-lost record. Sweet revenge was gained over perennial powers Mishawaka, Warsaw, Elkhart, and LaParte. To complement a 7-2 record and second place in the ENIHSC, they won the South Bend City Meet for the third consecutive year with a brilliant 22 point total. The Harriers also capped the Sectional Meet over a field of twenty-five other schools and then placed nineteenth in the State Meet. In the four years Mr. Frazier has coached, his team have compiled a 47-21 record. Next fall only two men out of the top seven will be lost by graduation, so continued success is anticipated for the team.

B-Squad Ready For Next Season

The B-team did a fine job by compiling a 5-0 record for the season. Although they ran in only five meets, they proved to be a solid squad for filling varsity spots next year. Consistent winners were: Richard Weber, John Nelson, Dennis Flory, Tom Turnock, and Kent Murrmann. One of the highlights of the season was the winning of the city B-team title. Although he did not show it during the season, Pete Sanders displayed his ability by winning the city meet in a very creditable time of 11:26 on the Potowatomi Park course.

Track Team Rebounds

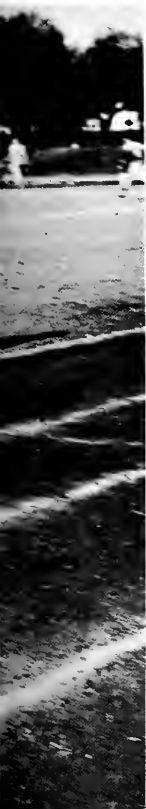

Riley's track team of Spring 1961 proved to be successful, rebounding from a disastrous 0-9 record the year before to a record of seven wins and two losses. The only losses were to powerful Mishawaka and Conference champs Adams. Victory came for the Wildcats in two triangular and five dual meets. The defeated opponents included Bremen, Warsaw, Washington Clay, Penn, Culver Academy, Central, Washington, St. Joseph, and Lakeville. Each win was an especially high point for the Fraziermen as losses had been incurred to all of these teams the year before. Season highlights were the wins over city rival Central 68 $\frac{1}{4}$ to 40 $\frac{3}{4}$ as well as Lakeville to the tune of 104-5. Outstanding in the team was John Everly who set a new school record in the 440 yard dash with a time of 51.6 seconds. Ironically the record was formerly held by Coach Paul Frazier. Back to aid the Wildcats' cause in 1962 are senior Tom Gleason in the pole vault and high jump, senior Steve Zeiger in the dashes, senior George Gusich in the hurdles and high jump, junior Mike Bayman in the broadjump and 440 yard dash, and seniors Mike Turnock and Jon Nace in the distance runs, which will probably be the strongest events.

Stretching his lead in the final turn, Jon Nace leads the field in the 880 yard run.

for Successful Year

Churning the cinders in the 880 relay Bill Wells slips the balon to John Everly for the last lap.

Divot-diggers Again Successful

Through the efforts of Captain Jim Jewell and his five fine teammates, the golf team enjoyed an admirable 7-4-1 season. Returning lettermen were Jim Jewell and Bob Beck. Other up and coming hopefuls were Jim Peterson and Dwight "Skip" Helm.

One of the highlights of the season was winning over Mishawaka in the later part of the season after losing to them previously in the season. The team captured second place in the Lake Hills Invitational and the Laporte Invitational acquiring 341 and 314 strokes respectively. They took third place in the sectional and ended up with a tie for fifth place with Elkhart in the state meet.

Previous Season

The baseballers of spring 1961 did not capture their second straight conference title, as many followers of Riley baseball had hoped they would, but they did snare their share of glory as they grabbed third place in the ENIHSC and finished with an overall 12-8 record.

Powered by the pitching of seniors Bob Rickel and Hal Widener and the timely hitting of Dave Gapski, Bob Foor, John Barth, and Jim Perkins, the Wildcats bowled over their first five opponents. Then the season was up and down. Niles was the first to eke out a victory; then Central, St. Joe, and Washington, in successive games, came out on the short end as the Wildcats triumphed. This was followed by two loss streaks of three games each. Sandwiched in between was a win over LaPorte, 5-0. Springing back to life, the team plastered Goshen, 9-1, and squeaked past Elkhart, 6-5. In the season finale, the Wildcats couldn't push across a run, as Central escaped with a win, 2-0.

That sure was a fast one, wasn't it, Bob Foor?

Tennis Team Blames It All On Kennedy Administration

This year was undoubtedly a new low for the tennis team at Riley. The racquetmen just could not seem to hit the winning trail as they compiled a record of no wins and eight losses. In each match the team came out on the short end of a 5-0 score except against Mishawaka when they just barely lost by 3-2. Playing varsity for Coach Wilbur Armstrong were Albie Hirschler, Chuck Freeland, Jim Glick, Craig Hosterman, Mark Hosterman, Sam Kramer, Rick Shearer, Jim Welling, and John Wolfe.

For you action lovers...

THE LARK DAYTONA

America's new action car

Bold...bucket-seated...accelerating from 0 to 60 in less than 10 seconds—that's the glamorous new '62 Lark Daytona. Especially created for today's action-loving young Americans, the Lark Daytona combines an optional 4-speed gearbox, nimble 109 inch wheelbase, and up to 225 HP—tames traffic, Thruway, or Rally route with equal ease.

Stop in at your nearest Studebaker dealer for a test-drive in either the Lark Daytona Hardtop or Convertible. We think you'll like the handy between-seat console, wood-grained dash, sports type instrumentation, the hardtop's unique optional Skytop sunroof. Then touch your foot to the accelerator...ask yourself if you've ever seen so much car for even $1000 more.

It's over now. We see our year behind us. It looks different than it did a year ago. Then it was tall, hard, cold, and wrapped in austerity. Now it seems to smile. It is warm and haloed with fond memories. We see in its shadows those who lived through '62 with us. We step on and leave our signpost behind — behind as we stride off into the dim future. This warm glowing memory and the challenge of the path ahead give us new courage to push on . . . forever.

To Our Readers:

The staff wishes to express thanks to Mr. Jack Cobb of Edwards Brothers for his help and suggestions in printing this book, to de Groff Studio for their time and advice, and to the Riley faculty and student body for their support.

Our special thanks go to Mr. Koch whose time and effort guided this book, and to all others who have contributed in countless ways.
